It is hard to believe that the war is over. That is what we said until school opened and then we realized with a start that it was true. Week by week the number of men applying for first year kept increasing until now we have eighty-three, seventeen more men than women. That after years of hardly any men at all! The number of girls grew by leaps and bounds too, until we jumped -

Of course the second and third years still feel the effects of the war years with twenty-two girls and three men in the Third Year and thirty-six girls and twenty men in the Second. Of the first year students, one was born in Bermuda, two in Czechoslovakia, four in England, one in Jugoslavia, two in Newfoundland, two in the United States and the rest in Canada. There are 62 ex-service men and 15 ex-service women in the first year, 8 ex-service men in the second year and 3 ex-service men and one ex-service woman in the third. Figures may be dull but when we tell you that Norah Sharpe is the III Year ex-service woman, Norman Burt-Garrans, Jack Bilbeck, and Paul Volpe the men, for some of you at least those figures come to life. Bruce Norman and Joe Gibson who got their first year in 1941 are back after many years on active service. Ed Staley and Ab Hutton are also back. Bridget Gregson who started out with the Class of 1945 is here again after over two years in the Navy. There are students from every province in the Dominion except Prince Edward Island and Quebec, and if we count one girl as from Quebec whose parents have just moved there, we are only one province short in our representation.

It has not been easy to accommodate so many students. A number of our first year classes undertaken with the Pass Arts students and it was quite a common occurrence at first to arrive at a classroom and be told "Physical and Health Education students will please leave" or "Students L-Z come on Wednesday," etc. There is no Chemistry lab. this year and the men and women have to take their Zoology lab. separately. As for residence, that has been a headache plus for everyone concerned. We have girls in 107 St. George Street and 30 Admiral Road, and a few in Whitney Hall and at 25 Classic Avenue, which is near. Others are in private boarding or rooming houses. The chief difficulty lies in the meal situation, since the girls cannot get their dinner at the Union this year and there is no flat rate for them, for breakfast and lunch. It is very sad! and expensive! The men too, have had great difficulty in finding places to live. However, by degrees most things have straightened out, and the students have certainly all been proper P.&H.E. sports in the way they have taken the inconveniences in their stride.

Another sure sign that the war is over, is the return of intercollegiate games to the campus. On Saturday, Oct. 13th, Varsity journeyed to Kingston and played Queens. Such excitement! Such floating of ribbons! Such bands and cheers! But alas, Queens beat Varsity, 19-15. Stu Scott, who graduated from our School in 1944 and who is a student at O.C.E. this year, starred for Varsity and Colin Cranham II Year student, also made the team. A number of our girls went down for the game and were loud in their praises of the hospitality and kindness of the Queens' students. The return game is to be played in Toronto on Saturday..... And we won; Varsity won, 25-6. There were thousands there to see the game (about 18,000 they say) and excitement ran high. Tune in on CBL for the next few Saturday afternoons and listen to the broadcast, play by play, of the intercollegiate football matches. If you hear the names of Stu Scott, Colin Cranham, Ted Toogood, Bob Henry, John Farmer and Bob Armstrong, you can cheer for S.P.H.E.

Camp was a great success this year. What is that verse in the Bible - "A merry heart doeth good like medicine?" If that is true, think what it would be like to have 50 merry hearts at Camp Tanamakoon in September. A long, tiresome, all-day-and-on-into-the-night trip on the train, but at the end -- staff members speeding across the lake to meet them, guests from Highland Inn on foot and in cars gathered to watch them off, the paddle through the quiet night (or was it?) and at last Tanamakoon among the trees, waiting to receive them. That was the beginning of three gay weeks when students and staff put in a lot of good, hard camp work and had a grand time doing it. It was a great month for sailing with gentle breezes the first week and fresh winds the second and third. Every one learned to sail and twelve of the girls became skippers.

The School had a share in a new undertaking this summer when we joined with the Department of Extension of the University in a three weeks course in Physical Education and Recreation. Miss Jackson and Miss Zorada Slack of the National Y.W.C.A. taught Gymnastics, Games, Dancing and Swimming. Special lecturers were Professor Wilber Neustetter, School of Applied Social Sciences, University of Pittsburg, who lectured on the principles of Group Work, Professor Watson Kirkconnell, McMaster University, Rev. Alex. MacMillan, Mus. D. of Toronto, Mr. A. Merl Harding of the National Y.M.C.A. and Miss Phyllis Griffiths of the staff of the Evening Telegram. Handicrafts were taught by Gladys Baker and Helen Mackey, M.E.S. graduates, and Captain Leonard Hutchinson of the Canadian Legion, took a period on basic design. The course was attended by 26 young women from various parts of the country and was held at the Household Science Building from August 6th-24th.

Those of you who have not been back to 415 Yonge Street for a number of years would be surprised at the changes that have taken place. All the black of the woodwork is gone and in its place, in the rotunda and on the stairway, the paint is dark blue and very light blue. The walls and ceilings are painted a pale pink, and the whole effect is quite modernistic. The lounge, the studio and the lecture room have been painted a light buff and there are now light colored chintzes on the chairs and chesterfields with a number of "love seats" added. Lovely, long chintz curtains at the windows of both the lounge and the studio improve the rooms greatly. New curtains of an effective striped material hang in the upstairs hall and in the main floor library. Come up and see us some time!

Social events within the School this fall have included the party given the night of registration day for the new students, and the dance given by II Year on October 24th. "The best ever" was the verdict of some of the II Year girls, after their party.

The Margaret Eaton Alumnae Association held their first meeting on October 2nd at the home of Mrs. Bramhall (B. Good), 1347 Mt. Pleasant Rd. It was a social gathering, very pleasant, and was comparatively well attended. The next meeting will be held on Nov. 6th at North MacLennan's, 12 Admiral Road, when ditty bags will be filled. Those who have completed bags to return are asked to bring them to this meeting or to 415 Yonge Street before November 15th.

THREE WEEKS IN NEW YORK WITH THE DANCE

AND MISS FORSTER

"June is not the month to see New York in its best "dancing mood," for most of the recitals are over by the end of May. However, I still managed to see three performances by the New Dance Group and a pre-1945-46 season performance by Charles Weidman and his group, as well as the dancing in "Oklahoma" and "The Bloomer Girl", both having very interesting choreography by Agnes de Mille, done in a semi-modern (if such a term can be used) style.

It is always fun for teachers to be in classes once more especially when the instructor is Hanya Holm, who works for perfection, who knows exactly what she wants, why and how, and who has a very forceful and pleasing personality with a keen sense of humor. One might add that she also knows how to work you hard without making it necessary for you to go down stairs backwards, the first week. The course at her studio was three weeks in length with so many students registering that the Technique Class had to be divided into two groups with an additional class in composition for those who wanted it. We had an hour and a half technique with approximately the first half hour for stretching and limbering, the rest for skills and then an hour until eleven o'clock for composition. As the course was held in June, the majority of students were university teachers or students, with a few dancers from the city of New York itself. The ability of the individuals varied from beginners to professional dancers, yet Miss Holm kept everyone interested in the same work. Of all the leading modern dance teachers, her approach is the most educational with a solid basis for all she teaches.

Fortunately, though most of the folk dance groups in New York City had stopped their regular evenings by June, the Folk Dancers at the Community Dance Centre, Arlington Hall, 19 St. Marks Place, led by Michael Herman and his charming wife, meet each Friday throughout the year. It was very warm the first Friday that I was there, but a fair number had turned out. I thought that I had a good folk dance vocabulary but the group danced from eight until around eleven and I only knew two dances during the whole evening. The mixed group needed little coaching and certainly had a very good time. The accompaniment varied between piano and violin, accordion or victrola. Don't miss it if you are in New York on a Friday evening. The same group also publishes a small monthly magazine called the Folk Dancer, containing music and directions for dances, folk pictures, and articles on customs and costumes connected with many countries, an excellent dance magazine.

A number of students at the course felt that two and a half hours a day was just a start, so some went off for two more hours at the Weidman studio, some went back in the evening to take classes with Miss Holm's assistants, another took approximately four hours each evening at Katherine Dunham's studio and still another wanted to reduce scientifically so was off to take special exercises, steam baths, massage, etc., each afternoon. As for me, this was also my holiday so I spent the remainder of my days seeing the sights and dropped into bed at night worn out too."
